

Below are ready-to-use answers for all 5 tasks. For Tasks 1–3, I’ve written the actual email content. For Tasks 4–5, I’ve given the practical steps and sample data you can use.

1. Cold Outreach Email – Food Delivery Startup

Subject: Social Media Collaboration Idea for Zomato

Hi Rohan,

I recently came across Zomato’s recent focus on making food discovery more engaging on social media, and I really liked how the brand connects food, local restaurants, and customer experiences.

I’d love to explore a social media collaboration with Zomato that could highlight local food businesses through short-form content, creator collaborations, and engaging food-focused posts.

The idea would be to create content that feels authentic to the audience while also increasing engagement and visibility for Zomato’s local restaurant partners.

Would you be open to a quick conversation this week to discuss a few collaboration ideas?

Best regards,
Arpit

Note: “Rohan” and the campaign reference should be replaced with the actual recipient’s name and a verified recent campaign before sending.

2. Three Personalized Outreach Emails – Music App Influencers

Template 1 – Spotify Reviewer

Hi Alex,

I’ve been following your reviews of Spotify features and music-streaming apps, especially your comparisons around playlists, recommendations, and user experience.

I’m reaching out because we’re launching TuneFlow, a new music app focused on personalized discovery, smart playlists, and a cleaner listening experience.

Since your audience is interested in finding alternatives and new features beyond Spotify, I think TuneFlow could be a great fit for one of your upcoming reviews.

Would you be interested in getting early access and sharing your honest opinion with your audience?

Best,
Arpit

Template 2 – YouTube Music Reviewer

Hi Maya,

I've enjoyed your content around YouTube Music, particularly your comparisons of music apps based on features, recommendations, and overall listening experience.

We're launching TuneFlow, a new music app focused on personalized discovery, smart playlists, and an easy-to-use interface.

I think your perspective would be especially valuable because your audience already enjoys exploring alternatives to mainstream music platforms.

Would you be interested in testing TuneFlow and potentially featuring it in a future review?

Best regards,
Arpit

Template 3 – General Music-Tech Influencer

Hi Jordan,

I came across your music-app reviews and noticed that you often look beyond the basic features and compare how platforms actually improve the listening experience.

That's exactly why I wanted to introduce TuneFlow, a new music app built around personalized recommendations, smart playlists, and simplified music discovery.

We'd love to give you early access and let you explore the app independently. Your honest feedback would also help us understand what music listeners really want from a streaming platform.

Would you be open to giving TuneFlow a try?

Best,
Arpit

3. Two-Email Follow-Up Sequence – Flipkart Seller Partnership

Follow-up Email 1

Hi Rahul,

I wanted to quickly follow up on my previous email about a potential partnership.

I believe there could be a good opportunity to collaborate around your Flipkart products through social media content and promotional campaigns designed to increase product visibility and reach new customers.

If this is something you're currently exploring, I'd be happy to share a simple collaboration plan.

Would you be available for a quick discussion?

Best,
Arpit

Follow-up Email 2

Hi Rahul,

Just following up one last time regarding the partnership idea I shared earlier.

I understand you may be busy, so I wanted to make this easy—if you're interested, simply reply “Yes”, and I'll send the proposed collaboration details.

If the timing isn't right, no problem at all. I'd also be happy to reconnect at a better time.

Best regards,
Arpit

4. Email Tracking Tool – Test Email

For this task, you can use a free tracking tool such as Mailtrack or Yesware.

Steps

1. Open the official Mailtrack or Yesware website.

2. Create a free account.
3. Connect your Gmail account.
4. Install/enable the tracking extension if required.
5. Compose a test email addressed to your own email address.
6. Enable email tracking.
7. Send the email.
8. Open the test email from your receiving inbox.
9. Return to the sent-mail/tracking dashboard.
10. Take a screenshot showing the email's Opened/Read status.

Example test email

Subject: Email Tracking Test

Hi,
This is a test email to check whether email tracking is working correctly.
Thanks!

Expected result:

Sent → Opened/Read

For the assignment, attach the screenshot of the tracking dashboard as evidence. I can't sign up for the tracking service or provide a genuine screenshot of your account on your behalf.

5. Google Sheets Outreach Tracking Sheet

Create a Google Sheet with these columns:

Email Sent	Recipient	Company/Event	Date Sent	Status	Next Follow-up Date
Yes	Rahul Sharma	ABC Events	10/09/2026	Sent	13/09/2026
Yes	Priya Mehta	XYZ Events	10/09/2026	Opened	13/09/2026
Yes	Amit Shah	Music Fest	11/09/2026	Replied	—
Yes	Neha Patel	Comedy Night	11/09/2026	Sent	14/09/2026

Yes	Karan Joshi	Live Events Co.	12/09/2026	Opened	15/09/2026
-----	-------------	-----------------	------------	--------	------------

Recommended status options

Use a dropdown in the Status column:

- Sent
- Opened
- Replied

Final sheet structure

Email Sent | Recipient | Company/Event | Date Sent | Status | Next Follow-up Date

This gives you a simple outreach CRM for your BookMyShow event-organizer campaign and makes it easy to see who needs a follow-up.
