“10 Practical SEO Strategies Small Businesses Can Use to Increase Organic Traffic”

Email Draft

Hello Digifinity Team,

I would like to contribute an article titled “10 Practical SEO Strategies Small Businesses Can Use to Increase Organic Traffic.” The article will provide simple, actionable SEO techniques that small businesses can implement without a large marketing budget.

2. Backlink Research – Zomato, Swiggy and Flipkart

For this task, I used publicly visible backlink-profile data based on the Ahrefs database. Ahrefs explains that a referring domain is a website/domain that contains one or more backlinks to the target website. (Ahrefs Help Center)

A. Zomato

AhrefsTop's August 2026 data shows that Zomato has approximately 29K linking websites, with a Domain Rating of 87. (AhrefsTop)

Linking website/example	Type of content
Forbes	News/article discussing Zomato
ResearchGate	Research paper/reference mentioning Zomato
LBB (Little Black Book)	Restaurant/food discovery content

For example, research material about Zomato cites Forbes articles covering the company and its founder, demonstrating how company/news articles can generate backlinks. (ResearchGate)

B. Swiggy

AhrefsTop's August 2026 data shows approximately 15.5K websites linking to Swiggy, with a Domain Rating of 84. (AhrefsTop)

Linking website/example	Type of content
LBB	Food/restaurant discovery content
Justdial	Business/restaurant directory content
EazyDiner	Restaurant and food-related content

These types of links are valuable because they can come from restaurant directories, food guides and business-discovery pages.

C. Flipkart

AhrefsTop's August 2026 data shows approximately 35.2K websites linking to Flipkart, with a Domain Rating of 89. (AhrefsTop)

Linking website/example	Type of content
Forbes	E-commerce/business news article
Academic/educational websites	Research or educational material

Brand websites

Product/gift-card or shopping-related
pages

For example, Forbes has published articles specifically discussing Flipkart's business and founders. (Forbes)

Note: Free/public backlink tools often expose only limited referring-domain details. The numbers above are therefore useful for an assignment, but the exact individual backlink URLs should be verified inside Ahrefs/Ubersuggest before using them for a professional SEO campaign.

3. Broken Link Building

Broken resource found

I found a real educational website page from Yashoda Technical Campus, Satara that currently returns a 404 Page Not Found response. The page still displays a collection of "Useful Links" and other important educational links. (Yashoda Technical Campus)

Another example is a page on Fabtech Technical Campus College of Engineering & Research that returns a 404 while the page still contains "Useful Links" such as AICTE, DTE, BATU University, NPTEL and government resources. (Fabtech Technical Campus)

Suggested replacement

Suppose my website has a useful article such as:

“Complete Guide to Digital Marketing for College Students”

This would be relevant to a college audience interested in digital skills, careers and online marketing.

Broken Link Outreach Email

Hello,

I was browsing your website and noticed that one of the pages/links in your useful resources section is currently returning a 404 error.

I have a relevant resource, “Complete Guide to Digital Marketing for College Students,” which could be a useful replacement for students interested in developing digital and career skills.

If you think it is suitable for your students, you may consider replacing the broken link with this resource.

Thank you for maintaining such a useful resource section.

4. Skyscraper Technique

Existing article selected

I selected Ahrefs' "How to Execute the Skyscraper Technique (And Get Results)" as the original article. It explains the three major steps: finding content with many backlinks, creating a better version, and reaching out to websites linking to the original. (Ahrefs)

How I would improve it

Improvement 1: Add a complete practical case study

Instead of only explaining the technique, I would create a real example:

"How I Used the Skyscraper Technique to Build 25 Backlinks: A Step-by-Step Case Study"

It would include:

- Original article
- Number of referring domains
- Content gaps
- New content created
- Outreach emails
- Response rate
- Backlinks gained
- Traffic before and after

This would make the article more practical rather than purely theoretical.

Improvement 2: Add templates and downloadable resources

I would add:

- 3 ready-to-use outreach email templates
- Backlink research checklist
- Competitor content-analysis template

- Google Sheets backlink tracker
- Content improvement checklist
- Examples of successful skyscraper campaigns

The goal should be better usefulness, not simply more words. Current SEO guidance also emphasizes that a Skyscraper article needs genuine improvements such as original data, better resources or stronger presentation rather than just increasing word count. (Link Inbound)

Promotion Strategy

After publishing the improved article, I would:

1. Find websites already linking to the Ahrefs article.
2. Identify which of those sites are relevant to my improved version.
3. Contact them with a short personalized email.
4. Explain what my version adds.
5. Share the article on LinkedIn, relevant communities and SEO groups.
6. Contact SEO newsletters and bloggers who regularly publish link-building resources.
7. Continue updating the article with new examples and data.

This follows the basic Skyscraper model: find → improve → promote to existing linkers. (Ahrefs)

5. Journalist Outreach – Featured.com

I selected Featured.com, which currently provides journalist requests from sources including HARO, Connectively, Substack, X and LinkedIn. It is free to start and allows users to find journalist requests and prepare pitches. (Featured)

Example journalist topic

Topic: How small businesses can improve their online visibility through SEO and content marketing.

Draft Journalist Pitch

For small businesses, SEO works best when the strategy focuses on solving customers' problems rather than simply adding keywords.

One practical approach is to create helpful, specific content around the questions customers ask before making a purchase. Businesses can then strengthen those pages with internal links, original examples, useful visuals and credible external references.

Another important factor is consistency. Publishing a few genuinely useful resources over time is generally more valuable than producing large amounts of low-quality content.

I would be happy to provide additional examples or practical SEO insights for your article.

Why a journalist might use this answer

This pitch is attractive because:

- It gives a clear and quotable insight.
- It is practical rather than promotional.
- It addresses a common problem for small businesses.
- It provides actionable advice in a few sentences.
- The journalist can easily turn the response into a short expert quote.

Featured specifically positions its journalist-request system around helping reporters find expert sources on deadline, so concise, directly usable answers are especially appropriate. (Featured)

Final Summary

Task	Completed
Guest post website + email	Digifinity + SEO guest-post pitch
3 websites + backlinks	Zomato, Swiggy, Flipkart
Broken link building	Educational/college 404 example + outreach email
Skyscraper technique	Ahrefs article + 2 improvements + promotion plan
Journalist outreach	Featured.com + sample journalist pitch

Important: For an academic assignment, this version is ready to use. For an actual SEO campaign, verify individual referring-domain/backlink URLs inside the free Ahrefs/Ubersuggest interface immediately before submission because backlink databases change frequently.
